

Xerox/Avature Privacy Policy

This career site is operated by Xerox Corporation for itself and other affiliated companies (collectively "Xerox"). This site provides you with the opportunity to submit personal information in connection with registering for this site and sending a job application to Xerox. By registering, you acknowledge and consent that any personal information, including sensitive personal information, you provide may be processed by Xerox for the purpose of evaluating your application and performing any related activities and further that such information may be stored and processed by Xerox, its third party service providers and business partners anywhere in the world. By registering you also acknowledge and consent that your personal information may be sent from the country in which it was originally collected to a different country, including countries that may not have data privacy laws with a level of data protection equivalent to such laws in the country in which it was originally collected. This site is hosted by Avature Corporation through its servers located in the United States.

When you visit our site we may collect information through the use of cookies. To learn more about the use of cookies by Xerox, please see the Privacy Policy on the Xerox website home page. The service provider that hosts this site, Avature Limited, also uses cookies. To learn more about the use of cookies by Avature, please go to <https://www.avature.net/website-privacy-policy/>. By registering you acknowledge and consent to the use of cookies.

You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your user name and password and agree to immediately notify Xerox of any unauthorized use of your user name and password. You are also responsible for keeping the information you provide accurate and up to date. The information you provide will be removed from this site within 24 months after the time your application process concludes or the last time you accessed this site, subject to the requirements of local laws.

For more general information on processing not addressed in this statement, please select this link for the Privacy Policy on the Xerox website home page.

Registration to use this site requires acceptance of these terms. Please select "I Accept" if you accept these terms. Select "I Decline" if you decline these terms.
