

Naresh Shanker

Chief Technology Officer

Naresh Shanker was named chief technology officer for Xerox effective May 6, 2019. In this role, Naresh is leading Xerox through its digital transformation, responsible for research and product development including supporting the company's product portfolio with PARC from its ideation to commercialization phases and an increasingly digital information technology operation. He was appointed a senior vice president of Xerox Holdings Corporation effective May 21, 2019.

Naresh joined the company as the chief digital officer and an executive committee member on January 14, 2019, with his experience within the IT industry spanning more than 25 years. Most recently he was chief digital and information officer for a start-up company focusing on disruptive nanomaterials and clean energy solutions where he continues to be a strategic advisor. Previously Naresh was the CIO for Hewlett Packard (HP) and Palm, Inc. He began his career at HP Medical Products Group in Boston, and in the field of diagnostic medicine holding a variety of leadership positions including Head of IT, launching the first medical device manufacturing operations for a Western company in Qingdao, China.

He serves on the Advisory Boards of several companies, including Devo Inc., Cylance, Inc., AutonomIQ Inc., and is on the Board of Directors for Clarizen.

Naresh earned his Master of Business Administration degree and a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science from the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago.

-XXX-